INVESTIGATOR'S FOLDER

Midnight Executive Skyline

All clues recovered and evidence documents collected during the investigation. Review every detail — the truth hides in the smallest things.

GENRE	SETTING	DIFFICULTY	AUDIENCE
Detective Mystery	Luxury Skyscraper Penthouse	Medium	Adults

PART ONE

Clues

Bloodstain in the Study

FORENSIC CRITICAL

A large bloodstain is found on the study rug, later confirmed to be Marcus Vane's blood. The pattern indicates a violent struggle.

Found at: Penthouse Study

Hint: The blood pattern suggests a struggle, not an accident.

Missing Marble Statuette

PHYSICAL EVIDENCE CRITICAL

A marble statuette that usually sits on Marcus's desk is missing. A small piece of marble is later found in the service elevator.

Found at: Penthouse Study and Service Elevator

Hint: The missing statuette and the marble fragment are connected.

Service Elevator Activation Log

DOCUMENT CRITICAL

The service elevator was activated at 21:30, the only elevator not under camera surveillance. It went to the basement and returned empty.

Found at: Security Office

Hint: The service elevator's log shows unauthorized use at a critical time.

Elena's Fingerprints on Private Elevator Button

FORENSIC CRITICAL

Elena Voss's fingerprints are found on the private elevator button, which she claimed not to have used that evening.

Found at: Private Elevator

Hint: Her fingerprints prove she used the private elevator despite her claims.

Elena's Fingerprints on Terrace Door Handle

FORENSIC CRITICAL

Elena Voss's fingerprints are found on the terrace door handle, which was unlocked from the inside.

Found at: Penthouse Terrace

Hint: The staged break-in is linked to Elena through her fingerprints.

PART TWO

Evidence Documents

WITNESS STATEMENT — WITNESS STATEMENT: DEREK COLE

I, Derek Cole, Personal Assistant to Marcus Vane, state the following:

On the evening of the merger announcement, I was at my desk in the executive suite from 21:00 to 22:30. At approximately 21:10, I heard raised voices coming from Mr. Vane's study. I recognized the voices as Mr. Vane and Ms. Voss. They were arguing about something financial—I heard Mr. Vane say, 'I know what you've been doing, Elena. The merger won't save you.' Ms. Voss replied, 'You can't prove anything.' I didn't hear the rest clearly, but the tone was heated. I did not see either of them leave the study.

Later, at around 22:30, I heard Liam Vance shout from the study. I went to investigate and saw blood on the rug.

I have not been asked to sign a formal statement before, but I am willing to cooperate fully.

Signed,
Derek Cole
Date: [Current Date]

SECURITY REPORT — SECURITY REPORT: SERVICE ELEVATOR LOG

VANETECH SECURITY DEPARTMENT
Incident Report #SR-4721

Date: [Date of Incident]
Time: 22:15
Reporting Officer: Derek Cole

At 22:15, I noticed that the service elevator had been activated at 21:30. The service elevator is not under camera surveillance and is typically used for maintenance and deliveries. The log shows it was called from the penthouse floor at 21:30, descended to the basement, and returned empty at 21:45. No maintenance was scheduled for that time.