MYSTERYMINT AI PRESENTS

Midnight Executive Skyline

A Detective Mystery set in Luxury Skyscraper Penthouse — for 4 - 8 players, approximately 90 minutes.

GENRE	SETTING	DIFFICULTY	AUDIENCE
Detective Mystery	Luxury Skyscraper Penthouse	Medium	Adults

CHAPTER ONE

Introduction

Marcus Vane, the visionary CEO of VaneTech, was on the verge of announcing a billion-dollar merger that would reshape the tech industry. But hours before the historic announcement, he vanished from his locked penthouse atop the VaneTech Tower. The penthouse showed signs of a struggle, but no forced entry—only an unlocked terrace door that seemed to suggest an intruder. His security team insists nothing unusual happened, yet several executives stood to gain from his disappearance. As the investigation unfolds, dark secrets emerge: embezzlement, debts, forbidden relationships, and professional misconduct. In this game of cat and mouse, you must separate fact from fiction and uncover the truth behind Marcus Vane's disappearance. Was it a kidnapping? A murder? Or something even more sinister? The clock is ticking, and the killer may be closer than you think.

CHAPTER TWO

Background

VaneTech, a leading technology conglomerate, was founded by Marcus Vane twenty years ago. Known for his ruthless business acumen and innovative vision, Marcus built the company from a small startup into a global powerhouse. The impending merger with a rival firm promised to elevate VaneTech to new heights, but it also threatened to expose the secrets of those closest to Marcus. As the merger approached, tensions ran high among the executive team, each with their own agenda and hidden motives. Marcus's disappearance has thrown the company into chaos, and the police are baffled by the locked-room mystery. Now, it's up to you to piece together the clues and determine what really happened to Marcus Vane.

CHAPTER THREE

The Setting

The penthouse occupies the entire top floor of the VaneTech Tower, a gleaming skyscraper in the heart of the city. It is a masterpiece of modern luxury, with floor-to-ceiling windows offering panoramic views of the skyline. The open-plan living area features sleek furniture, contemporary art, and state-of-the-art technology. A private elevator opens directly into the penthouse, ensuring privacy for its occupants. The study, where the struggle occurred, is lined with bookshelves and a large mahogany desk. A marble statuette, now missing, once stood on a pedestal near the window. The terrace, accessible through glass doors, wraps around the penthouse and provides a breathtaking outdoor space. Despite the luxurious surroundings, an air of unease lingers—a bloodstain on the rug, a toppled chair, and the chilling realization that something terrible happened here.

CHAPTER FOUR

The Incident

At approximately 21:00, Marcus Vane was in his penthouse study, preparing for the merger announcement. An argument ensued with an unknown person, escalating into a violent struggle. Marcus was struck with a marble statuette, leaving a bloodstain on the rug. His body was then moved via the service elevator to the basement incinerator, and the study was cleaned to remove evidence. The terrace door was unlocked from the inside to stage a break-in, and the perpetrator left via the private elevator at 22:00. At 22:30, Liam Vance, Head of Security, discovered the bloodstain and the missing statuette, and alerted the authorities. Marcus Vane was nowhere to be found.

CHAPTER FIVE

The Discovery

Liam Vance, conducting a routine patrol, noticed the study door ajar. Upon entering, he found a bloodstain on the rug and the marble statuette missing from its pedestal. The terrace door was unlocked, and a chair was overturned. He immediately alerted the security team and the police. A search of the building and grounds yielded no sign of Marcus. The service elevator log showed it had been activated at 21:30, and the private elevator camera captured a figure leaving at 22:00, appearing disheveled. The police have sealed off the penthouse and begun interviewing the executives, but no one is talking.

CHAPTER SIX

The Investigation Begins

You are part of an elite investigative team called to the VaneTech Tower to unravel the mystery of Marcus Vane's disappearance. The penthouse is a crime scene, and the suspects are the five executives who were in the building that night: Elena Voss, Julian Croft, Liam Vance, Derek Cole, and Sophia Reyes. Each has a secret and a motive, but only one is guilty. As you examine the evidence and interrogate the suspects, you must piece together the timeline, verify alibis, and expose the lies. The merger announcement is scheduled for tomorrow morning—time is running out. Can you solve the case before the killer escapes justice?

CHAPTER SEVEN

Developments

- A hidden safe in Marcus's study is found open, containing documents that could ruin several executives.
- Derek Cole is seen arguing with Sophia Reyes in hushed tones, suggesting a shared secret.
- A torn piece of fabric is found on the terrace railing, but it doesn't match any of the suspects' clothing.
- The incinerator logs show it was activated at 21:45, but the ashes contain no identifiable remains.
- Julian Croft is overheard on the phone, desperately trying to secure a loan to cover his debts.
- Liam Vance's personnel file reveals a previous theft incident that was covered up.
- Sophia Reyes is seen shredding documents in her office late at night.
- A mysterious phone call to Marcus's daughter is traced to Derek Cole's phone.

YOUR CHALLENGE

The Final Puzzle

You have gathered all the evidence and interviewed the suspects. Now, you must answer the ultimate question: Who killed Marcus Vane? Was it Elena Voss, the embezzling COO? Julian Croft, the debt-ridden CFO? Liam Vance, the thieving security head? Derek Cole, the assistant with a forbidden romance? Or Sophia Reyes, the disgraced lawyer? Consider the bloodstain, the missing statuette, the service elevator, the unlocked terrace door, and the encrypted files. Piece together the timeline and expose the lies. The killer is among them, and justice demands the truth. Submit your accusation with a detailed explanation of the evidence and motive. The fate of VaneTech—and the killer—hangs in the balance.

· END ·